

What does a Grocery Rescue partnership involve?

Second Harvest will provide...

- A retail store for your agency to pick up donations
- An introduction with the retailer's store management
- Training on safe food handling, customer service, program guidelines and reporting requirements
- Store donation guidelines for your specific store
- Ongoing support from Second Harvest staff
- Agency equipment and materials:
 - MealConnect reporting
 - Identification badges
 - Donation receipts
 - Thermal blanket
 - Scale
 - Thermometer

Grocery Rescue Partner will...

- Attend Grocery Rescue trainings
- Provide retailers with a donation receipt after each pick up
- Weigh donations by category and report weights via MealConnect on the same day as the pick up
- Maintain an on-time, pre-arranged schedule with retailers
- Notify Second Harvest staff of any issues or schedule changes
- Train back-up staff/volunteers for pick ups and reporting

Benefits

Bring additional food variety to your agency

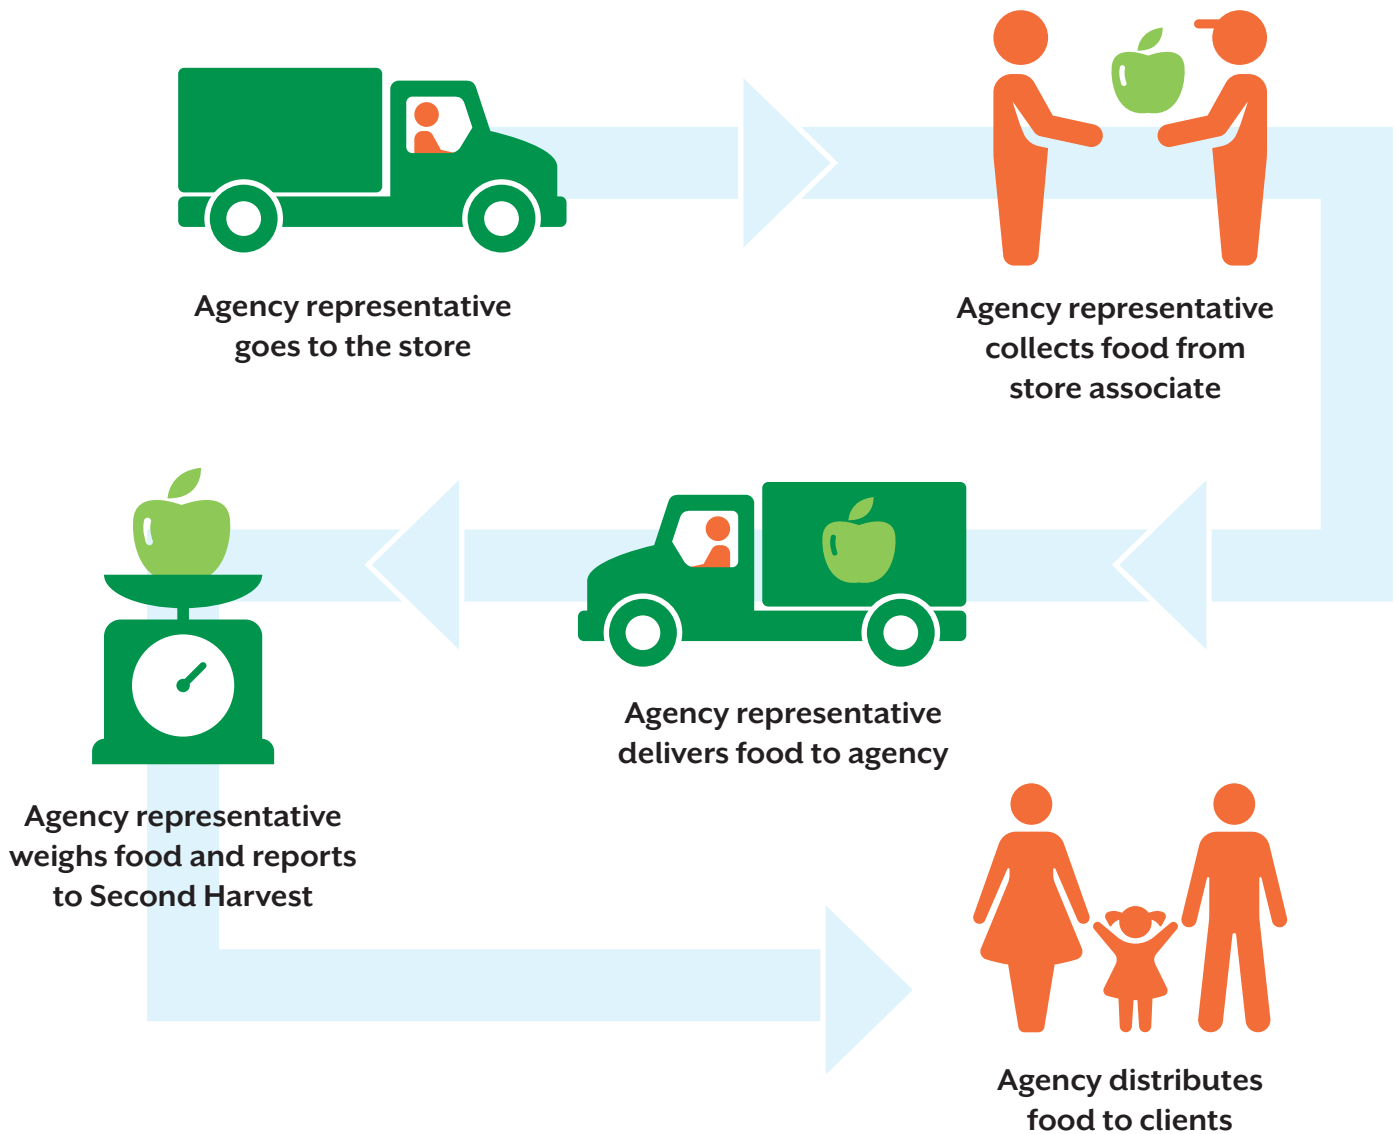

Product mix could include: meat, dairy, produce, deli, bakery, dry, frozen, non-food items, and much more.

Contribute to a better, more sustainable world by rescuing food that would otherwise be unnecessarily wasted.

SECOND HARVEST
of SILICON VALLEY

The Grocery Rescue Process

“Becoming a partner agency with the Grocery Rescue program has enhanced our pantry distribution in so many ways. It has allowed us to provide fresh food items to our families...The quality and variety of fresh produce, meats and baked items has elevated our distribution and has afforded us the ability to customize carts to individual health needs of our clients.”

–Vicky Martin, Pantry/Donations Coordinator,
St. Joseph’s Family Center